

SOLDIER TO PEACE LEADER

THE LIFE WORK OF PAUL K. CHAPPELL

“By changing how people understand human nature, war, and peace, we can bring humanity toward a new vision of peace.”

Paul Chappell, Will War Ever End? A Soldier's Vision of Peace for the 21st Century

PAUL K. CHAPPELL

PEACE LEADERSHIP

DIRECTOR

NUCLEAR AGE PEACE

FOUNDATION (NAPF)

SPEAKER

AUTHOR

PEACE LEADER

WEST POINT CLASS OF 2002

Contact:

Nuclear Age

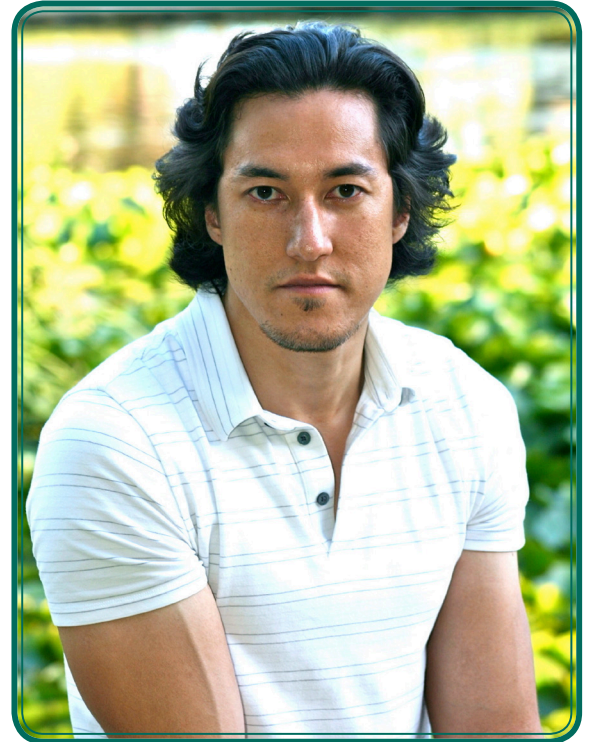

Peace Foundation

www.WagingPeace.org

805-965-3443

PaulKChappell@gmail.com

www.PaulKChappell.com

The son of a Korean mother and a half African-American and half Caucasian father whose thirty years of military service included combat duty in Korea and Vietnam, Paul Chappell is a 2002 West Point graduate who served in Iraq as a captain. He has been obsessed with the need to end war since he was a child and as a young adult wanted to discover how to heal the causes of violence and conflict. His groundbreaking work offers clear and compelling insights based on military training, experience, and extensive research into human nature and the myths that perpetuate war.

His persuasive dialogue on ending war avoids blaming any particular political group and offers deeper solutions to our national and global problems that have appealed to liberals, conservatives, veterans and civilians.

His two acclaimed books, Will War Ever End? and The End of War, explore the interconnected problems of war and peace and call for urgency supported by renewed hope, optimism, and solutions.

“Captain Paul K. Chappell has given us a crucial look at war and peace from the unique perspective of a soldier, and his new ideas show us why world peace is both necessary and possible in the 21st century.”

Archbishop Desmond Tutu, Nobel Peace Prize Laureate

“Paul K. Chappell has transformed my way of thinking about war and peace.” — Lt. Col. Dave Grossman, U.S. Army (ret.) author of On Killing and On Combat, Director of the Warrior Science Group

PRESENTATIONS AND LECTURES

DIALOGUE FOR A NEW HUMANITY

As Peace Leadership Director at NAPF, Paul Chappell gives more than 100 talks annually to college classrooms, veterans groups, and other concerned organizations.

Speaking engagements include:

- Veterans for Peace 2010 National Conference
- Dean's Forum at Trinity Cathedral (Cleveland, Ohio)
- 2010 Global Peace Convention in Nairobi, Kenya

Keynote addresses include:

Santa Monica Culture of Peace Distinguished Speakers Series, Peace Day Hawaii, California Regional Conference for Veterans and Military Families, and The End of War Forum at First Congregational Church of Long Beach.

College presentations include:

Stanford University
Brandeis University
Oberlin College
University of Kentucky
Santa Clara University
University of Maryland

University of Dayton
Xavier University
Georgetown University
Marquette University
American University
Wittenberg University

Pace University
University of Hawaii
Marian University
Fairhaven College
Berea College
Hampshire College

“...with full compassion for people on both sides of the war/peace issue...a bridge from those trained in war and seeking to end it.”
— Gordon Fellman, Sociology Professor, Peace and Conflict Studies, Brandeis University

HIS MAIN THEMES EMBRACE:

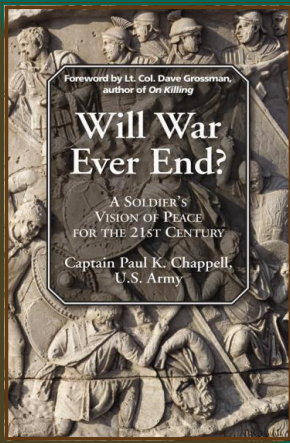

- Why Peace is Possible and How We Can Achieve It
- How to Develop Peace Leadership for the 21st Century
- How to Create Positive Change through Waging Peace
- How and Why We Must End War
- How Humanity's Earlier and Continuing Struggles Offer Us Hope and Optimism
- How to Prevent Bullying in School
- How Military History Has Proved That Human Beings Are Not Naturally Violent
- How to Think Strategically for Conflict Resolution

Book TV/C-SPAN filmed his guest lecture on Will War Ever End? at American University, and he has been featured on Oprah Radio, NPR, Pacifica Radio, other media programming, and the free online documentary series American Unity Project (www.americanunityproject.com). Print interviews include an extensive article in The Sun, April 2011 and an exploration of his multi-ethnic roots in Koream, June 2011.

“Every reader of his books will know we are seeing an important new author emerge. He is one we need.”

— Gavin de Becker, #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Gift of Fear

WILL WAR EVER END?

Easton Studio Press, 2009
Paperback, 84 pages
ISBN 978-1-935212-22-5

THE END OF WAR

Easton Studio Press, 2010
Paperback, 160 pages
ISBN 978-193521211-9

Study guides for
Will War Ever End?
and The End of War
are available at www.PaulKChappell.com

BOOKS TO INSPIRE A PARADIGM SHIFT IN OUR UNDERSTANDING OF CONFLICT AND COOPERATION

Required reading in schools such as Brandeis University, American University, Salem State (Massachusetts), the University of New Mexico, Cal State University—Long Beach, and other classrooms throughout the country, Paul Chappell's two books reflect his in-depth study of military history, insights regarding war veterans such as Socrates and Gandhi, the life-changing significance of every army's greatest problem, and how we must wage peace in order to solve our national and global problems of the 21st century.

WILL WAR EVER END? A SOLDIER'S VISION OF PEACE FOR THE 21ST CENTURY

Major themes: 1) humanity is not naturally violent, 2) war drives people insane, 3) why peace is practical, possible and necessary.

"Captain Chappell has written a lucid, eloquent, compelling book, a wonderful book... The abolition of war is possible, providing we do the work of creating trustworthy structures of collective security and waging peace as Captain Chappell models for us." — Jonathan Shay, M.D, Ph.D, 2009 Omar Bradley Chair of Strategic Leadership, US Army War College; MacArthur Fellow, author of Achilles in Vietnam and Odysseus in America (foreword by Senators John McCain and Max Cleland)

"... a remarkable little book based on personal experience and study... His thesis is compelling, and if generally embraced, could be harbinger of a turnaround in human acceptance of war as a given" — Rev. Dr. Allison Stokes, Director of the M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence, Director of the Interfaith Chapel, University of Rochester

THE END OF WAR: HOW WAGING PEACE CAN SAVE HUMANITY, OUR PLANET AND OUR FUTURE

Major themes: 1) untangling the riddle of war through a new understanding of human aggression, greed, conflict, and citizenship, and 2) waging peace through 21st century tactics and strategies.

"...brilliant insight and lucid prose...a true 'toolbox' of skills and wisdom to begin the process of building a peaceful world." — Lt. Col Dave Grossman, author of On Killing and On Combat, Director of the Warrior Science Group

"The End of War can help people everywhere understand why war must end, and how together we can end it."
— Archbishop Desmond Tutu, Nobel Peace Prize Laureate

THE END OF WAR
BY PAUL K. CHAPPELL

2011

INDEPENDENT PUBLISHERS
BOOK AWARD

Category: Outstanding
Books of the Year

Winner: Peacemaker
of the Year Gold Medal

2011

INDEPENDENT
BOOK PUBLISHERS
ASSOCIATION

Category: Foreign Affairs/
Military History

Winner: Benjamin Franklin
Book Award

2011

THE ERIC HOFFER AWARD
Finalist

PEACE LEADERSHIP WORKSHOP
DEVELOPING SKILLS TO WAGE PEACE IN THE 21ST CENTURY

“He is a unifying figure and expanding our community by leaps and bounds.” — Barbara Wien, Professor, Peace Education, American University, former Co-Director, Peace Brigades International

As NAPF Peace Leadership Director, Paul Chappell has developed a full day workshop that combines the tools of non-violence with the leadership concepts and principles taught at West Point. These include:

1. How to inspire, motivate, and empower people to take action.
2. How to persuade people who have an opposing point of view.
3. How to build discipline within ourselves and within a movement.
4. How to control our anger.
5. How to calm enraged people.
6. Understanding the violent mind and learning how to interpret violent behavior.
7. How to move beyond preaching to the choir.
8. How to resolve conflict and promote camaraderie.
9. How to think strategically and tactically.
10. How to maintain hope within ourselves and inspire hope during difficult times.

“His positive attitude about humanity’s potential to create a peaceful world inspired everyone who encountered Paul...”

— Ron Prosek, Chair, Peace Seekers of East Shore Unitarian Universalist Church, Kirtland, Ohio

To focus on the practical skills needed to build a peaceful community and world, Paul Chappell has presented the Peace Leadership Workshop at colleges and churches throughout the country with forthcoming workshops in Montana, Michigan, Colorado and Florida.

For more information, please contact Paul Chappell at the Nuclear Age Peace Foundation
(805) 965-3443 or visit wagingpeace.com.

“Paul Chappell has an important and uplifting message: peace is possible and wars can be ended in our time.”

— David Krieger, President, Nuclear Age Peace Foundation